

AP French Language

Independent Study: Welcome to AP French

Welcome to the AP French Course. We're confident that you will find this course to be an enjoyable and effective way to improve your ability to read, write, speak, and understand French.

We have designed this course to help you:

- Prepare for the AP French Exam
- Thoroughly review the basics of French grammar
- Learn more about French culture and civilization
- Acquire new vocabulary covering many areas and disciplines
- Fine-tune your skills in reading and understanding French
- Perfect your ability to write clearly and coherently in French
- Express yourself verbally with correct grammar, a rich vocabulary and clear pronunciation
- Persist in your study of French by providing an interesting variety of activities

Course Organization

The course is conducted almost exclusively in French. The course is divided into ten units. Each semester includes four content units and one semester review and test. There are an additional two units which will help you review specifically for the AP Exam. Each unit is divided into three lessons and a unit wrap-up. Each lesson contains approximately ten to twelve activities. Although this course is completely online, you will have a teacher who will be available to answer any questions you might have regarding the course and the content. The teacher will also be correcting your assignments and any audio or essay submissions.

Course Materials, Activities, Assignments and Assessments

The intensity, quality and amount of materials can be compared to a third-year college course. The course materials, activities, assignments and assessments have been written, created and organized by the school and are to the level of a third-year college course. This includes the interactive visual activities, the authentic audio excerpts, reading passages, pronunciation lesson audios, assessments, and other content and assignment material. Additional authentic materials will be taken from the internet so students can even more fully experience the language. The activities and assignments in this course are specifically designed to help you improve your skills in all Spanish communicative areas and also prepare you for the AP Exam. You will be submitting a variety of essays and oral recordings and completing various assignments that will require you to practice French both in and out of the classroom. The tests, especially the unit tests and semester final exams, are structured to assess your complete understanding of all the information presented. The tests contain multiple choice questions as well as speaking and writing components. They should be prepared for quite intensely. They will also give you great practice for the AP test. You should expect to spend several hours a week on this course. Try not to let a day go by where you don't study French at all. It is important to really immerse yourself in the content to fully benefit from it. The material has been specifically gathered and organized to provide you with an intensive French experience. Do not skip over any lessons or activities or you will miss out on important information. The various assignments and practices will require a lot of preparation and personal effort to complete.

Read the following list of skills that you will be improving and the activities related to each area.

Listening

- Practice listening skills through authentic dialogues, narratives and passages.

Reading

- Read authentic literary pieces for comprehension and analyze them for important cultural and literary elements.
- Read passages in each unit to practice skills and learn cultural information.

Writing

- Write various types of essays – narrative, expository, descriptive, analytical and opinion.
- Write responses to literary works.
- Writing includes short essays, critical responses, essays or research papers.

Speaking

- Practice picture panel stories and directed response speaking throughout the course.
- Practice specific pronunciation of various French sounds.
- Participate in Elluminate sessions
- Practice the language in both academic and non-academic settings
- Speaking assignments will be recorded, submitted to teacher and then graded.

Vocabulary

- Learn important vocabulary in each lesson.

Grammar

- Introduce and practice all the necessary verb conjugations and other grammar points necessary for the AP test.

Authentic Audio Materials

Each lesson provides the opportunity for students to listen to authentic audio materials. These materials will be taken principally from the internet. The activities will include listening to radio and news broadcasts, themed topics, television and movie excerpts and other interesting audio clips. Students will be required to respond to these audio materials either orally or in writing. Their comprehension will be assessed through their accuracy in their notes, quality of personal response/reaction and/or degree of correctness to specific questions and quizzes.

Authentic Written Materials

Each lesson also includes authentic written texts so students can develop their reading abilities. In addition to several literary texts found throughout the course, there are also other authentic written texts provided in each lesson. These authentic written materials will be principally taken from the internet. They include newspaper and magazine articles, themed readings and other nontechnical writings.

Students will be required to respond to these audio materials either orally or in writing. Their comprehension will be assessed through their accuracy in their notes, quality of personal response/reaction, completeness of interpretations and/or degree of correctness to specific questions and quizzes.

Speaking Opportunities

Although this is an online course, students will have regular opportunities to develop their speaking skills in a variety of settings using various types of discourse and topics. First of all, students will have several pronunciation lessons throughout the course. Also, students will need to record themselves answering various questions, describing pictures, telling stories or responding to different topics at least once a unit. In addition, the teacher will organize Elluminate sessions each semester. These Elluminate sessions will allow all the students to log on to an online classroom where they will be able to converse in French with their teacher and other classmates. Finally, students will be given regular opportunities (usually once per lesson) to use their French in a variety of settings. Some possible activities include going to a French restaurant and ordering completely in French, interviewing native French speakers, becoming “phone”-pals with other online classmates, and other interactive speaking activities. These will provide incredible speaking and even cultural opportunities for the students.

Grading the AP French Course

As you go through the course, you'll find that most activities, such as lesson and unit quizzes, discussion activities, practices and teacher-graded assignments, will enter into your grade. Some of these will be computer-graded. Others, such as the speaking and writing assignments, will be sent to your teacher for grading.

Additional Preparation

Many of the lessons and units will have "Related Resources", including websites, readings, and suggestions of other material to study. You should take advantage of as many of these other resources as possible. You should also look for opportunities to improve your French by speaking to native speakers and listening to spoken French. The more practice you have using your French, the better you will score on the AP test and, more importantly, the higher you will reach in your ability to communicate.
