Superintendent's Update

2024-2025

911

I remember exactly where I was and what students were doing on the morning of September 11, 2001. I know those students have all graduated and moved on with their lives. More than twenty years later, we continue to share with our current students the tragic events of that day, reflecting on how it brought the people of our country together and forever changed our way of life.
